

I am an EchoStar subscriber. I disagree with the NAB and ALTV assertion that requiring a second antenna to receive all local stations in a particular market is discriminatory and not in compliance with SHVIA. All of the major network stations are available on my existing dish. If I wish to receive the other stations, EchoStar will provide a second dish at no charge. I do not consider this to be a problem. In addition, this second dish will allow me to receive HDTV channels, which none of the local stations in the Denver area are prepared to provide over the air anytime soon, which is itself a violation of FCC rules (which I note that the NAB and ALTV has been silent about).
